Professional Experience

Bruce has led many projects throughout his career in both residential and commercial markets. He has made numerous contributions to his native Puerto Rico, including a power generation project. In addition, he has helped clients resolve critical issues such as emergency permitting and public safety challenges. While at RHJ, Bruce has been a part of designing office buildings, warehouses, garages and car dealerships. Even smaller projects like office fit-outs has not escaped Bruce's designer pen. His unmatched principal level service and support to all his clients and assignments are highlights to his ability as a professional..
